POSTERS

Posters featuring the participants' projects and institutions will be displayed throughout the symposium. The poster display will allow participants to familiarize themselves with projects quickly, so that they might maximize opportunities to make connections with others while at the symposium.

One poster from each project must be submitted to CLIR by Monday, March 15, 2010. Posters should be in PDF format and be sent by e-mail to Christa Williford at cwilliford@clir.org. They will be printed by CLIR.

2008 recipients: Projects awarded grants in 2008 are encouraged to focus on major lessons learned during the first year of project work.

2009 recipients: Projects awarded grants in 2009 are encouraged to highlight any special questions or concerns they have about the implementation of their projects.

Posters will be 24" x 36", and will be printed in color. Participants are free to design their posters as they wish within the size limit.

PANEL SESSIONS: SPEAKERS

Day One: "Innovation" Panel

Participants are invited to submit proposals for 15-minute presentations related to innovations in organization, staffing, training, technologies, cataloging workflow, or recordkeeping practices employed in their project, exploring how these practices have shaped or will shape ongoing work at their institutions. It will be especially useful for the group to hear about the challenges associated with implementing these innovations, and how project teams have met these challenges.

Day Two: "Outreach" Panel

Participants are invited to submit proposals for 15-minute presentations on any aspect of outreach or public programming connected with their projects. It will be especially useful for the group to hear about challenges associated with project outreach, and ways staff members have met these challenges. "Outreach" may be broadly construed, including efforts to involve local users, distant users, students, or other institutions in the programming or services associated with a project.

Please send proposals to Christa Williford at cwilliford@clir.org by February 1, 2010.

BREAKOUT SESSIONS: LEADERS

Day One: "Birds of a Feather" Breakout Meetings

Participants are invited to propose roundtable-style discussions on topics of common interest (topics could include but are not limited to issues concerning university libraries, college libraries, independent libraries, consortia, historical societies, museum archives, etc.).

Day Two: Technology Breakout Meetings

Participants are invited to volunteer to lead short sessions related to technical tools, standards, and practices employed on program projects. Topics may include but are not limited to application of the EAD standard, or the uses of Archon, Archivists' Toolkit, CONTENTdm, etc.

Please contact Christa Williford at cwilliford@clir.org by February 1, 2010 if you are interested in leading one of the discussions.
