Creation of 'Recordings at Risk'

Unique challenges of audio/audiovisual digitization and description:

- Content is at great risk of loss
- Need for specialized expertise, sometimes even to conduct cataloging or assessment
- Prohibitive costs of storage for access and preservation
- Tricky intellectual property situations

Image courtesy of the University of Nevada Las Vegas (Cycle 10 recipient)

Assessment Criteria

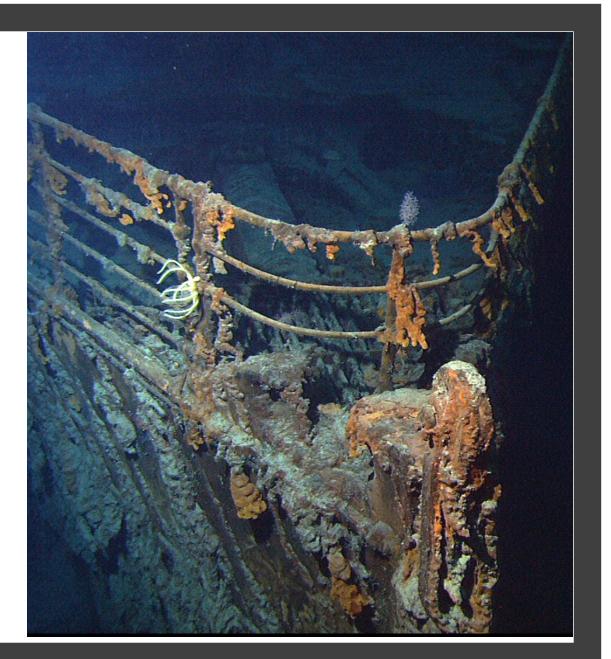

- Impact: the potential scholarly and public impact of the project
- Urgency: the urgency of undertaking the reformatting to avoid risk of loss
- Potential for preservation: the viability of the work plan and deliverable for preserving the content over time
- Approach to access: the approach to legal and ethical concerns affecting access

Eligibility

- U.S. nonprofit academic, research, or cultural memory organizations
- Organization and collections must be in the U.S. or an associated entity
- Government units and their agencies: eligible, if cultural heritage is primary function
- Federally recognized tribal governments: eligible

Questions? recordingsatrisk@clir.org

Eligibility

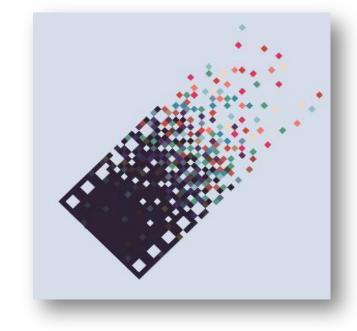

One application per organization per call

- Different campuses of a university system are considered different organizations
- A museum and a library on the same campus would not be considered different organizations

Allowable formats

- Audio / Video / Film
 - Primarily focused on analog-to-digital transfer

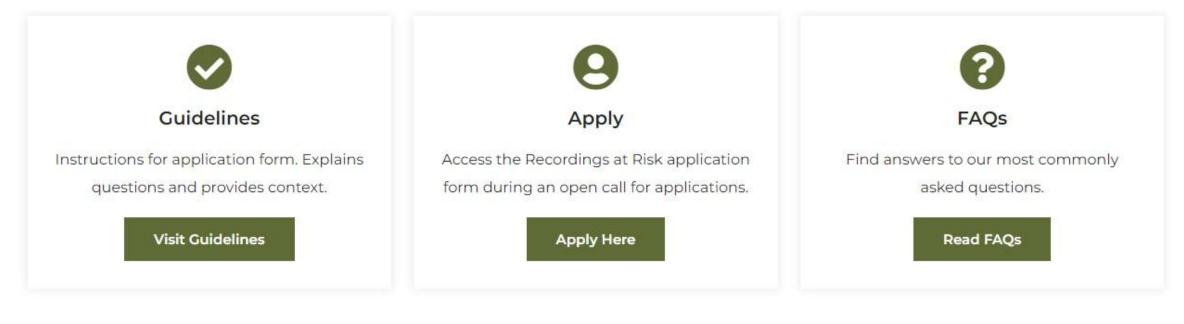

All project work will take place between September 1, 2024 and August 31, 2025.

Digitizing Special Formats

This list of resources is curated by the Digital Library Federation for the benefit of cultural heritage professionals planning projects involving the digitization of rare and unique materials. Applicants to the Digitizing Hidden Special Collections and Archives and Recordings at Risk programs of the Council on Library and Information Resources may find these helpful in planning project proposals.

Rather than providing comprehensive coverage, this list includes introductory and reference materials that are good places to begin an exploration of issues of broad import to digitizing cultural heritage materials.

Content for this wiki page is currently being curated by program staff at the Council on Library and Information Resources P. This page was originally developed and edited by the following team: Nicholas Graham, Project Coordinator, North Carolina Digital Heritage Center P, Lisa Gregory, Digital Projects Librarian, North Carolina Digital Heritage Center, and Tamsyn Rose-Steel, CLIR/DLF Postdoctoral Fellow for Data Curation in Medieval Studies at Johns Hopkins University.

If you would like to suggest a resource for inclusion on this page, send your suggestion to info@diglib.org P. The DLF is currently seeking professionals from DLF member institutions who would like to participate in a curatorial group to develop and maintain the content of this page. Prospective volunteers for this group should also send expressions of interest to info@diglib.org P.

Technical Recommendations

Technical Recommendations for CLIR's Recordings at Risk Program

The following recommendations were developed by CLIR staff in consultation with technical experts who have served on the Recordings at Risk review panel. While the Recordings at Risk program does not dictate minimum technical standards for proposals, this guidance serves to communicate reviewers' expectations for digital file formats, descriptions of digital files, and the storage and maintenance of those files over time. These recommendations and resources should help those in the early stages of project development learn more about reviewer expectations, allowing them the opportunity to build more competitive proposals. We also recommend reviewing successful sample proposals available on the Applicant Resources page.

10.00

Recordings at Risk is funded through the generous support of The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation. For more information on the program, visit the program's landing page: https://www.clir.org/recordings-at-risk/.

Resubmission?

This application has been previously submitted for consideration.

If this application is a resubmission to the Recordings at Risk program, explain what changes have been made in response to reviewer comments. If this proposal has been previously submitted to another CLIR grant program (i.e. Cataloging Hidden Collections; Digitizing Hidden Collections), include that information here.

(max. 500 words)

Section 2: Description of Content

- Description of materials
- Geographic scope
- Date range of materials
- Condition
- Material Quantity and Type 🕄
- Inventory (optional)

Material quantity and type.

Enter quantities and types of recordings to be digitized in the proposed project. You may add as many different measurement/material types as you like by, but each individual item should be accounted for in only one category.

Guidelines for the Authors of Letters of Support for CLIR Grant Applications

Digitizing Hidden Special Collections and Archives and Recordings at Risk

Good letters from outside perspectives are essential components of any application for Digitizing Hidden Special Collections and Archives or Recordings at Risk. Letters of support must come from individuals knowledgeable about the source materials nominated for digitization but may not come from those who are directly affiliated with a proposed project.

Section 4: Risk Assessment

Explain the urgency of the proposed project

Section 5: Rights, Ethics, and Re-Use

- Rights, embargoes, ethical/legal considerations?
- Personally Identifiable Information?
- Culturally-sensitive material?

All parties to this proposal understand that as a condition of acceptance of any Recordings at Risk award from CLIR, all metadata created in the course of funded project activities must be dedicated to the public domain under a CCO Creative Commons license. Exceptions to this requirement will be made for culturally sensitive metadata.

Confirm

All parties to this proposal understand that as a condition of acceptance of any Recordings at Risk award from CLIR, recipient institutions must not claim additional rights or impose additional access fees or restrictions to the digital files created through the project, beyond those already required by law or existing agreements. Exceptions may be made for those materials in the public domain without the express wishes of local, traditional, and indigenous source communities.

Section 6: Project Design

- Project plan w/ timeline
- Technical approach
- Digital preservation plan
 - Multiple copies of digital files
 - Scheduled fixity checks
 - Periodic migration
 - Metadata creation
- Access to project deliverables

Section 7: Service Provider Information

Vendor name	ا
Vendor address
Vendor contact
Vendor phone
Vendor email
How many additional service prov	viders would you like to add?
(optional)

Rationale for your service provider selection

Section 7: Service Provider Information

- "Qualified" external service provider? Check:
 - Colleagues
 - Conference sponsorships
 - Webinars/panels
- What can I do to get the most accurate proposal?
 - Complete inventory
 - Photos

Final Tips

- Estimate timelines generously
- Be in touch with service providers about their protocols and particular instructions
- Flexibilities available post-funding include
 - extensions, if projects encounter delays
 - budget reallocations

Final Tips

- Ask "is this grant program the right fit?"
- Read the instructions and requirements carefully!
- Leave yourself as much time as possible
- Get organized: project manage the application process
- Assemble your dream team of contributors and partners
- Ask for the amount of funds you actually need
- After reading the materials online, contact program staff about any remaining questions
- Propose a project you believe in and an approach that you feel good about
